A Father's Day Tribute to Our Dads

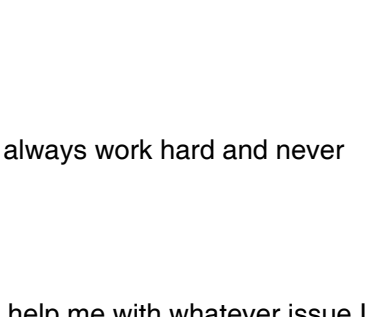

Meet the Amazing Men Who Raised Our Team

Family is extremely important to us here at Fleschner, Stark, Tanoos & Newlin. All the work that we do goes back to that foundation. Whether we are helping a client win the best possible personal injury settlement or assisting a parent navigating child custody, one of our top priorities is making sure that the families and individuals we work with are safe and supported.

Since Father's Day is this month, we only thought it right to celebrate our own families and the amazing dads we have been lucky enough to have. Here are a few words from our team members about how we are thinking of the fathers in our lives this year: "My dad means the world to me. He supports me in everything I do, and I cannot thank him enough!"

—Erin McEnery

"My father, Herbie, has given me so many amazing childhood memories that I can't think of just one. That is the making of a great father."

—Kelly McConnell

"My dad, Henry Stephens, is the most kindhearted, hardworking man I have ever known, and I am proud to be his daughter!"

—Dorothy Stephens

"My father has taught me the lessons of patience and persistence. If you work hard and are a good person, you will realize what is most valuable in life."

—Alanna Galbraith

"This is a lesson my dad instilled in me from the time I was a little girl: 'You can do anything you believe you can do.'"

—Katie Fleschner McMullen

"My mother gave me my drive, but my father gave me my dreams. Thanks to him, I could see a future. I love you, Dad."

—Kayla Frazier

"My dad, Frank Long, is very caring and has taught me to always work hard and never give up."

—Sheri Long

"My father will always be my hero! I can depend on him to help me with whatever issue I am facing, and I cherish spending time with him and the loving relationship we have together."

—Michel Starkey

"I am who I am because of my father. He's my hero, my No. 1 supporter, my best friend, a hard worker, and the world's best grandpa!"

—Lakin Riley

"Happy Father's Day to my husband, Brandon! The man who can work 80-plus hours in one week and still have time to go to the baseball games and dance lessons. I love you and thank you for being the best daddy to our babies!"

—Sarah Ellis

"My dad has taught me so much through life and helped me become the person I am today. My dad means the world to me, and I honestly do not know what I would do without him in my life. I would be so lost without him. I love you, Dad."

—Jami Bex

"My pop, Jack Eggers, is a man like no other. He showed me what a husband and father should be like. He also fueled my love and passion for drag racing. There is nothing better than the feeling of getting from one end of the track to the next in 10-12 seconds flat."

—April Atkinson

"My dad taught me respect because he always respected my mom."

—Brenda Palmer

If you are able and willing, consider reaching out to your own father or father figure this month. In these difficult times, our relationships and our families mean everything. And if you are a father yourself, happy Father's Day from all of us. Thank you for everything you do!

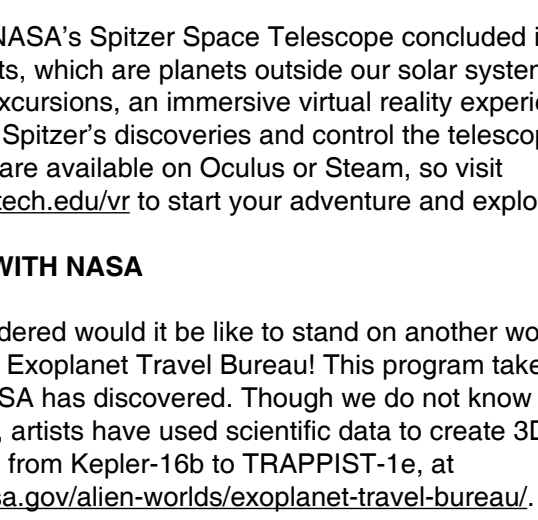

FSTN in the Community

The Final Frontier

NASA Takes You on a (Virtual) Space Adventure

Commercial space travel might still be the stuff of science fiction stories, but thanks to computer programs and augmented reality, your family can still experience what it is like to explore space. NASA and other organizations provide a wealth of free resources that make space exploration come to life for stargazers and future astronauts alike. Take some time to explore a few of our favorites today.

TOURING THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION

First launched in 1998, the International Space Station is a multinational space research laboratory. Nineteen different nations have sent astronauts, cosmonauts, and space tourists to the space station to conduct scientific experiments. It is truly the stuff science fiction dreams are made of! In 2012, Expedition 33 Commander Sunita Williams filmed a full tour of this amazing floating lab and even included a quick lesson on how to work out in zero gravity. "Visit" the space station for yourself at https://www.nasa.gov/mission_pages/station/main/suni_iss_tour.html.

EXPLORING DEEP SPACE VIA VIRTUAL REALITY

On Jan. 30, 2020, NASA's Spitzer Space Telescope concluded its 16-year mission researching exoplanets, which are planets outside our solar system. This data was used to create Exoplanet Excursions, an immersive virtual reality experience that lets your family experience the Spitzer's discoveries and control the telescope yourself. These incredible excursions are available on Oculus or Steam, so visit <http://www.spitzer.caltech.edu/vr> to start your adventure and explore deep space today!

PLANET-HOPPING WITH NASA

Have you ever wondered would it be like to stand on another world? Then "book" your next vacation with the Exoplanet Travel Bureau! This program takes you on digital tours of real exoplanets NASA has discovered. Though we do not know what the surfaces of these worlds look like, artists have used scientific data to create 3D landscapes to explore. See them all, from Kepler-16b to TRAPPIST-1e, at <https://exoplanets.nasa.gov/alien-worlds/exoplanet-travel-bureau/>.

BREAKING NEWS

J&J to Stop Selling Talc Baby Powder

Fleschner, Stark, Tanoos & Newlin fights for the rights of clients nationwide in all types of personal injury cases, including product liability, defective medical devices, pharmaceutical (drug) injuries, class actions, and more. We can help, no matter where you live.

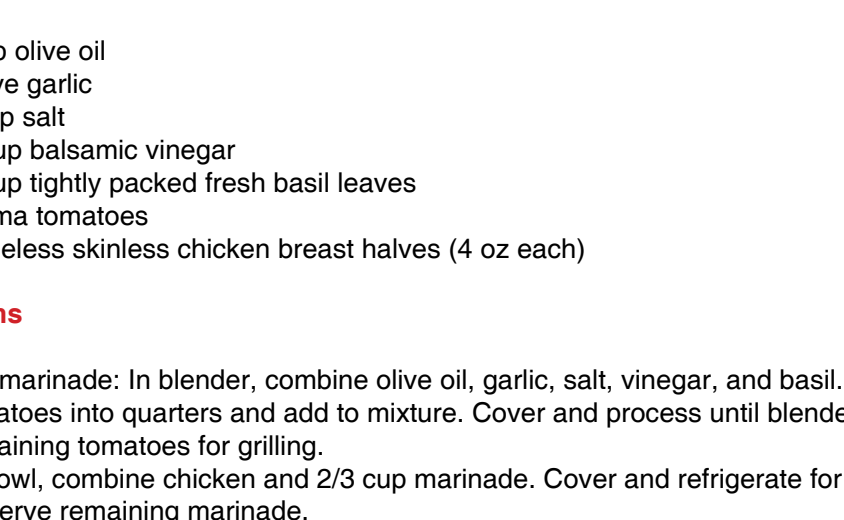

On May 19, 2020, Johnson & Johnson announced it will stop selling talc baby powder in the U.S. and Canada. Johnson & Johnson has been in the spotlight since 2014 regarding its talc-based baby powder products, as many believe their products cause ovarian cancer. Talc is a mineral made up of various elements, including magnesium, silicon, and oxygen. Talc is ground to make talcum powder, which is used as a moisture-absorbing ingredient in products that are widely available like baby and facial powders, cosmetics, feminine washes, sanitary napkins, tampons, vaginal deodorants, and other consumer products. Talc does not break down in the body and it can travel through a woman's vagina, uterus, and fallopian tubes into her ovaries, causing irritation and possibly cancer. Juries have awarded billions of dollars to plaintiffs in cases involving these products across the U.S. in the past few years.

We are NOT suggesting you have been injured by a Johnson & Johnson product containing talcum. We also are NOT suggesting that all, or even most, people become injured or damaged because of using Johnson & Johnson products containing talcum. We are simply stating that accepted medical research shows that some women have suffered from ovarian cancer as a result of using Johnson & Johnson products.

If you or someone you know has been damaged by a talcum powder product, please contact us at 812-231-5128 for a free consultation.

Employees of the Month

Congratulations to our June Employees of the Month Jane Mascari & Tasha Layne!

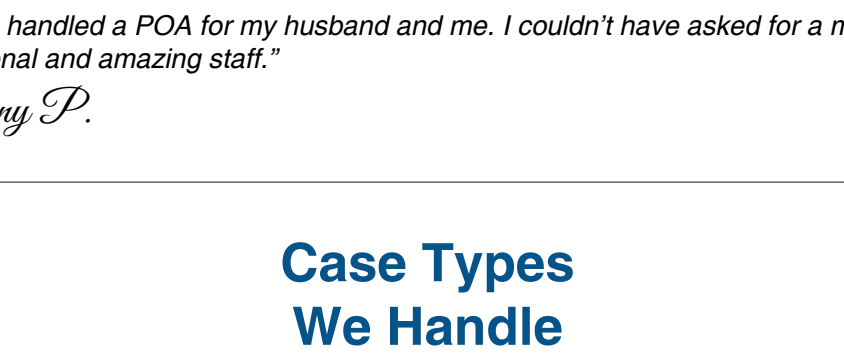

For the Month of June, we have TWO Employees of the Month again! Jane and Tasha work very closely to schedule hundreds of hearings each month, located across the country. They look at each attorney's individual schedule and try to get as many hearings as possible when they will be in a certain area. Tasha and Jane make a great team, along with the attorneys, to get hearings scheduled for our clients.

Jane has been with the law firm for almost 18 years and is an Executive Secretary to Tony Tanoos and the Scheduling Department Manager. Her favorite things about her job are helping clients through a difficult time, and she also enjoys the people she works with.

Tasha has been with the law firm for eleven years and is also a Scheduler. As a Scheduler, she schedules hearings for the law firm each month. Tasha's favorite thing about her job is working with Jane and being able to work closely with the attorneys. Tasha also added, "Since COVID-19, we are working with the hearing offices more closely, and it's nice to build a close relationship with them also."

People who voted for Jane and Tasha said this, "The schedulers worked very hard to get July hearings scheduled, and they've continued working hard with the hearings offices throughout the country to keep getting hearings scheduled. Way to go, ladies!"
